SARAH PACKIAM

East meets West with Sarah. She is a singer-songwriter, nominated for an International Emmy for her participation as a TV Host of HBO's music show, A Tiny Audience. At 14, she represented Ireland with a song she wrote called Homeless Teenage Girl and later signed with EMI Ireland. She has released over five studio albums and has toured as a backing singer and guitarist for Shakira.

CREATE WITH PURPOSE

“It’s okay to allow things to fall into place as they come and enjoy the process of creating.”

We all have a message to share with the world, and Sarah wants us to embrace our creativity. Her motto is Quality over Quantity, and she encourages us to create and create.

MUSIC TO SAVE THE WORLD

Sarah Packiam's songs can make us dance, sing, smile, make us pick up the phone, call our families, and tell them how much we love them.
